PROFILE

My name is Keith Mvula. Keith Rainz is my brand name but you can call me Keith Rainz. I am university drop out who went on a mission to become a self-taught web designer, web developer, web speed optimization, web security, digital marketing and content creator.

As a self-taught person, I have learnt a lot of things out of passion, love, interest and curiosity and gained a lot of skills since I have been implementing what ever I have been learning. I do not wish to be employed in future but to remain as a freelancer helping all sizes of businesses in Zambia and world at large. My focus audience is Zambia and Africa.
